
The gate is open. You're Vecna's assistant now.

Twelve children. Twelve vessels. One final step between you and the end of Hawkins.

Well, babysitting them was never part of the plan - but they are still useful. Certainly, Mr. Whatsit knows the fastest way to earn their trust - targeting what they love.

They left traces behind - their favorite things always come in pairs. Your task is simple: choose one item that would make a perfect match with the item above.

Use your power. Invade their minds. Lead them to a better world - Vecna's world.
